

Run For Crohn's

RAISING AWARENESS & FUNDING FOR THE CROHN'S MAP VACCINE

Dr Amy Hermon-Taylor is running for a Crohn's cure!

London Marathon
13th April 2014

Researchers at King's College London have developed a vaccine intended to treat Crohn's Disease and preliminary studies show that it is safe and effective. Before the vaccine can progress to human trials, £100,000 needs to be raised to finalise the development of a diagnostic test, which will allow doctors to monitor patient response to the vaccine.

Can you help? Visit:

 www.justgiving.com/Run-For-Crohns-MEN3936

Please visit Amy's JustGiving™ page where you can find more about the research at Kings College and sponsor her marathon run.

JustGiving™

KING'S College
LONDON

Crohn's disease is a debilitating and aggressive form of Inflammatory Bowel Disease. It affects 5 million people worldwide, including 1.2million in the USA and over 100,000 in the UK, and numbers are increasing. Symptoms include chronic severe abdominal pain, bloody diarrhoea, vomiting and weight loss. The success of this vaccine could eliminate so much suffering.

All donations, however small, will really make a difference to the progress of research and trial of this vital vaccine.